ABOUT ME

I have been a full-time real estate professional since 2003. I am passionate about assisting my clients to make their dreams a reality.

I educate home buyers about everything from finding a home that meets their needs to knowing how it works. I don't just sell my clients a roof over their head, I want them to love coming home and know that they just invested in themselves.

For every buyer there are sellers too. For them, I not only talk about the market conditions and the data around a fair market value for their home, but give them room-by-room tips on how to showcase the features in a room to the fullest. The goal for sellers is to get the best price in a timely manner.

I'm ready to work with and for you.
